Ingredients

- [ ] celery, cut like the apples; the source gives no quantity
  In the source: “some celery”
- [ ] mayonnaise, enough to dress the salad; the source gives no quantity
  In the source: “a good mayonnaise”

Method

1. [ ] Peel the apples and cut them into small pieces, about 1.25 cm square.
2. [ ] Cut the celery in the same way and mix it with the apple. Take great care that no apple seeds are mixed in.
3. [ ] Dress the salad with the mayonnaise.

The apples

The source asks for "two raw apples", peeled, and names no kind.[1]

This recipe

It follows The Cook Book by "Oscar" of the Waldorf. The source uses American measures (cups, spoons, pints and pounds); the metric amounts are this site's conversions. This site has no kitchen and has not cooked the recipe.

What was changed: The source gives a quantity for the apples only: it asks for "some celery" and for "a good mayonnaise" without saying how much, so no quantities are given for them here. It names no kind of apple and gives no yield. The size of the pieces in centimetres is our conversion of the source's half inch. Nothing has been added.
